A state with only one member at the meeting may have only one delegate, but will still receive their association’s number of allotted votes, so that delegate may cast two votes. Said delegates must be AJSA members that are 15 years of age or older. If the association does not have two members present fulfilling this age requirement, they may have younger delegates. 2. Number, Terms, and Qualifications of Directors. The directors of the Association shall be nine in number. Directors shall serve on the board for three-year terms. Only one new board member from each state association may be elected to the board of directors of the American Junior Shorthorn Association in a single year. At no time shall more than two representatives from a single state association serve on the board. Directors must be at least 17 years of age to apply for the Junior Board. Should a director have his 22nd birthday after the election, he/she still completes the year (from election to election) as a director and must retire at the following election. To be eligible to be on the AJSA Board, juniors must not have children or be with child. If a previously installed Board member becomes with child, he/she must resign at the following election.

Delegates will receive a copy of all the candidate applications at Youth Conference. Open interviews will be conducted at Youth Conference. Delegates from each junior association will be given ballots (corresponding to the number of votes which their state receives) with each board member candidate’s name on it. They will rank each candidate with 1 going to their first choice, 2 to the second, etc., until the ballot is completed and all candidates have an allotted value. During voting, ONLY delegates of the same junior association will be able to confer. Ballots from one state association do not have to have the same rankings.

4. Election Vote Distribution. Election will be conducted at the Youth Conference in the following manner: The number of votes received by each junior association will be determined by the number of members of the American Junior Shorthorn Association within that junior association. If the two states officially become one junior association, i.e. Dakota Plains, they will vote as one association. The number of members from each of the states will be added to determine the votes the junior association gets. 2 votes: 0-75 junior members; 3 votes: 76-250 junior members; 4 votes: 251 and up junior members. The number of junior members will be the number of members the state has as of the entry deadline, and voting number brackets are subject to change as the total association membership changes for subsequent years. Each current AJSA Board Member will receive one vote.

5. Scoring of the Votes. Delegate and AJSA Board rankings will account for 70% of each candidate’s total score. The remaining 30% will be the ranking of each candidate’s application by a committee of three qualified industry leaders. To determine which candidates will get on the board and in what order, these ranks will be added. The lowest score will be the first candidate to get on the board and so on until all the positions are filled. Ties will be broken by counting the number of number 1 rankings the candidates receive.

6. Resignation. Any member of the board of directors may resign at any time by giving written notice thereof to the remaining members of the board of directors.
